5 Ways to Support and Recognize DSPs

In the 2021 DSP Survey Report, about one-third of direct support professionals (DSPs) said they do not feel appreciated for their work. Additionally, many feel that the COVID-19 pandemic has hampered their organization's ability to provide employee recognition and support. This week, during DSP Recognition Week, make the time to recognize and support the quality hard work of your direct support workforce. This infographic, 5 Ways to Support and Recognize DSPs, shares several actionable ways you can spotlight, appreciate, and support your staff's dedication to persons served.
